FRONT COVER

The Season of Remembrance is a heartfelt tribute to all those who gave their lives in service to others, and to the sacrifices made to protect the freedoms we enjoy today. The delicate pencil illustration brings together poppies, a weathered stone cross, rolling countryside, and a soldier's memorial, creating a peaceful and reflective scene. Each element symbolises remembrance, honour, and gratitude for those who have gone before us.

Inspired by John 15:13, the cover reminds us of the profound love demonstrated through sacrifice. The words Remembrance, Gratitude, Peace, and Hope reflect the heart of this special time of year, encouraging us to pause, remember, and give thanks. It is also a reminder to pray for peace in our world and to ensure that the courage and sacrifice of others are never forgotten. As we look back with gratitude, may we continue to carry hope forward into the future.

THANK-YOU

The Friends of Quarry Park would like to thank all the Church bakers who donated to our cake stall at our 30th Anniversary Celebration Coffee Morning on 26th Sep in Hatfield Community Library.

If you didn't go you missed a treat, we had lots of 'then & now' photos to peruse of the park from 30 years ago and from the same spot today for comparison. There were complimentary drinks, biscuits and a piece of celebration cake for everyone and the brand new whacky Human Fruit Machine made its debut (you had to be there!) as well as a fantastic 27 prize raffle! plus boxes of fabulous homemade cakes and buns and a Tombola by DN7 Food Bank. It was a great morning, and we raised £270.25 in the process, and the net profits will go back into our funds to buy more equipment and protective clothing for our fantastic group of Friends of Quarry Park volunteers. Many thanks to all the fabulous bakers, those who donated raffle prizes - Morrison's Daily Dunsville, Co-op Dunscroft, Tesco Edenthorpe, Gent's Barbers, Flare Path, ASDA Doncaster, Shylock's Hairdressers and Sarah Jane's Tea Rooms and the Library staff for hosting. Here's to the next 30 years!

THE FRIENDS OF HATFIELD CHURCH BUILDING TRUST

Guess what we saw being rammed with books by John in the Library in Hatfield when we were having our monthly meeting? One of our everlasting FoHCBT tote bags from many years ago! At least 10 or maybe 15 years I suspect. It certainly seems to be standing the test of time, and it was lovely to see it still being used today. Have you still got one and do you use it? We still have other souvenirs to sell e.g. pens, key rings and cards on our Friends table in Church, just pop your money in the wooden box provided if you purchase anything, sadly no bags though.

We have done a vast array of fundraising ventures over the last 30 years speaking of which, we feel a 30th celebration coming on probably in the summer next year so we're hatching a plan already.

If you're a FoHCBT member you will be receiving an invitation early next year. Meanwhile, you can become a new member for only £5 per year or if you need to, renew your membership fees at the St Lawrence Autumn Fayre on Sat 24th Nov in Church between 10am and 3pm where we'll be selling our new stock of beautiful pre-loved and new costume jewellery pieces too.

Our new Membership Secretary Christine Crookes will be pleased to assist as she takes over the role from Jean Singleton who has done a fantastic job for the last 'not sure how many' years, many thanks again Jean. See Christine's details below.

We have some great news on the stained-glass window restoration; the new stone tracery has been carved and installed and what a stunning work of art it is. The Stone Masons have done a magnificent job, and the next step will be installing the restored stained glass so we can't wait to see that too. The Friends are delighted to be contributing funds to such a worthwhile project.

You can become a 'Friend' for a minimum donation of £5 per year. These subscriptions are the backbone of our fundraising efforts with all funds raised going only to maintain, conserve and restore our wonderful Grade 1 Listed building and grounds. Anyone can join us. For more information and to pay Membership renewal fees please contact:

OUR WILD AWAY DAY!!!

On the 26th September, I went with Hatfield Heroes Youth Group to Hesley Wood for a wild away day. While we were there, we participated in a variety of outdoor activities. First, we gathered and said a prayer to start the day off. Then we went to the crate-stacking activity where we worked together to get as high as we could. After that, we walked to archery. While we were at this activity, we learnt how to fire the arrows safely and correctly. Next, we split up and went to an assault course which we did a challenge on. This challenge was to carry a cup of water while you were doing the course without spilling any of it. This was enjoyable even though our team lost. We had just enough time before lunch to fit in one more activity, so we headed off to find the Cresta Run. This was an activity where you ride on a wheeled sledge down a wooden track. It was quite fast, but it was very fun. The worst part about it was having to pull the sledge back up the hill!

After we had eaten lunch, we could do one more activity, and I chose to go to the zip line. When we were doing this, it felt very fast and felt like gliding through the air. Once we had done this we all assembled at the campfire for the end of the day. At the fire, we sang worship songs, played a game and toasted marshmallows. Even a group of scouts were watching us as we praised. Members of the young leader's community shared about being a light for the world around us. You can do this by not getting involved in bad things, for example arguments on social media. The fire provided a warm atmosphere and concluded our day.

DIARY OF A YOUTH MINISTER

What a joy it has been doing youth ministry these last two months. We started back our regular Hatfield Heroes Group welcoming 6 new young people. We regularly have around 20 young people attending, with over 30 now on the register. With the help of our amazing volunteer team, we have been looking at the topic of Wisdom together. Where should we get our wisdom from? Why is the Bible a better place to go with our questions than Google or AI? What happens when we make mistakes, can we learn from them? We have had some interesting discussions and found some even funnier proverbs!! (My favourite to introduce them to was Proverbs 26:11 "As a dog returns to its vomit, so a fool repeats his folly").

This month we also see the launch of a new group for our older youth, allowing them space to go deeper in Bible study and some peace and quiet from the Year 6's and 7's! Please pray for this group as it gets established. I am always encouraging our young people to step up into leading things themselves, and this Saturday one of them will be attending a workshop on Justice hosted by the Diocese.

I am looking forward to hosting treats in the churchyard again at the end of half term, and to being back in Ash Hill Academy in November to relaunch my pop-up prayer space at lunchtimes and Christian Union after school club. Please do hold all of these in your prayers as we know that God is using these to reach a new generation with his love. If you can help at any of these or on our Open the Book team delivering Bible stories into schools, please do get in touch. Our Open the Book Team have loved sharing some of Jesus' parables this term, including the lost sheep and the good Samaritan. Next half term we will be tackling the parable of the two builders, before doing a Christmas story which we will also be performing at the Christingle service.

TRANSFIGURATION WINDOW

The past 5 months have seen quite a transformation in our beautiful Transfiguration window as it has been expertly and lovingly restored by our stone masons and conservation glaziers.

It all began on May 14th when internal and external scaffolding was erected, following this the glass panels were removed and taken to the glazier's workshop in North Yorkshire to be carefully cleaned and repaired as required. The masons then removed all the stonework, and the void was boarded up.

Templates were made, stones ordered, and work began on the intricate and time-consuming hand carving the tracery, mullions, sills and other elements that needed full replacement as well as tidying up and strengthening those areas that could be restored.

One of the most significant challenges was ensuring to the best of possibility, that glass which had been originally made to fit worn and misaligned medieval stonework would fit back into the restored, perfected new tracery and heads. The masons and glaziers worked so hard and diligently to make sure that with fingers crossed and more than a few prayers this would be so. The glaziers in turn 'fine-tuned' the leading surrounding each panel to ensure that as far as could be anticipated when the windows were reinstalled, they would fit! (or at least with minimal adjustment made to do so!)

Both teams of craftsmen worked so hard on this project, not least because everyone seems to love our wonderful church!

The culmination of this hard work came together in early October: - First the stonework was raised and reset, then the glass was inserted and thankfully at 8pm on October 16th it was finally clear that all would be well and the whole was intact and glorious!

We would like to thank both teams of craftsmen, who using traditional skills and methods have brought the window back to full glory.

Jonathon and Ruth Cooke and Brian from Conservation Glaziers and Matthias, Will and Waldo and the team from Matthias Garn Master Masons.

Thanks also to Viv for keeping the masons plied with cakes and goodies. They were truly gutted when their final day on site dawned!

We are grateful to the Hatfield Church Building Trust for their kind grants to enable us to secure the future of this amazing and inspiring piece of art for generations to come.

Thank you too to the Friends of Hatfield Church Building Trust for their continued endeavours to raise funds for the Building Trust and support us all.

You may have noticed also that the bay in which the window stands has also been limewashed internally and externally. We thought it would be a nice idea to do this.

You have perhaps heard about the hoo- ha surrounding the rendering of the tower at St Oswalds, Askrigg .. if not, google it! It was our masons who undertook that project too!

All churches of our era would have been limewashed in this way originally. This served as a protective raincoat to protect and preserve the stonework against the elements and extreme weather conditions.

The Victorians in their wisdom decided it would be better to remove this render as it was thought the original stonework looked better! If you look closely, you can see many areas in the church where render is still clearly visible!

Another nice touch is that the masons each left their own 'Mason's Mark' for perpetuity. This is a long-standing way of identifying who had carved the stones and it is delightful that now, as well as some original medieval marks we now have a couple of 21st century ones!

Look out for details of a special service of re dedication of the window in due course.

OWL PICTURES

A lovely incidence of serendipity occurred when the masons admired and remarked on the striking and intricate Owls which are on display on the blue boards in church.

These were individually painted by Mark who is regular at Lawrence's Place Community Café and gifted to the church.

Will and Waldo loved them so much that each close one to take away with them as memento of the St Lawrence family, and I know 1 is on display in the mason's workshop!

Congratulations ladies first winners of the new round enjoy an Autumn treat. Looking out of my window it really looks autumnal the rain is pouring down for which I am really grateful, my Acer has changed into its winter coat and its colour is magnificent, surprisingly I still have red geraniums in full flower in front of it so a really cheerful view. I know I will have to do something with my geraniums to get them through the winter and hope that this may be the first year I do it correctly and they survive. My gardening skills come under the heading of "plant and pray", I comfort myself with knowing that I help to keep a local business in work, after our Parkinson dance group Wednesday morning we often reward ourselves with coffee at Branton garden centre and then I give into temptation at the garden centre not always buying but always enjoying the greenery and the lovely smells that go with beautiful plants and of course the staff are so helpful with advice.

If anyone reading this also has a neurological disorder and has been advised to exercise, I would recommend this group it is facilitated by Darts, so it is tailored to our needs and aims to get your brain and limbs to work together in a light-hearted way. The music reflects our ages; there is no hard-core Lycra shouting at you to try harder you do what you can. Wednesday 11am -12md Armthorpe Community centre £5, carers are free wheelchair friendly.

Yesterday I took a deep breath in Church and talked about the window, this week it will be completed and is beyond beautiful, to see the colour of the stone and think that hundreds of years ago the whole church looked like that took my breath away. The skill of the masons and glaziers is undeniably amazing, and their love of our Church has been palpable. Rosh Milner's tenacity has been a lesson in dogged determination; on behalf of The Hatfield Church Building Trust, I wish to record our thanks to her. The HCBT was founded 30 years ago for the sole purpose of maintaining and cherishing our Church, at the time it was very unusual and caused a stir, but many groups came to learn from us to set up their own "friends " groups. The fund-raising arm of the HCBT belongs to the "Friends" a dedicated body of people who tirelessly raise money for the HCBT to spend on your Church without their efforts we would not have had the money to repair our window and as grants are few and far between, we might now be looking at a boarded up window rather than the beautiful window we now see.

Even if the religious part of Church is not for you but the history ,beauty ,architecture is you need to be a "friend" it costs £5 a year and all those £5 add up, go to a their coffee mornings ,enjoy one of their bus trips ,give them your unwanted jewellery all those broken bits of gold and silver added together bring in a lot of money ,be like the late Teena Blanshard and nominate your retiring collection to Church (8 years in November since she left her collection for the window renovation)all sorts of ways to help and all are appreciated.

Looking forward to seeing you all soon.

THE RICHNESS AND JOY OF HOLY COMMUNION FROM THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.

Holy Communion stands at the heart of our life as Christians. In the simple gifts of bread and wine, we meet the mystery of Christ's love: his life given for us, his presence among us, and his promise of life everlasting. The Book of Common Prayer (BCP) gives this holy mystery a rich and prayerful form, shaped by Scripture, the worship of the Church through the ages, and the language of reverence and thanksgiving.

The service draws us into the story of salvation. We hear God's commandments, confess our sins and receive the assurance of forgiveness. We listen to the Scriptures, including the Gospel, and join in the Church's prayers for the world and for those in need. These parts prepare our hearts for the altar, where the priest leads the great prayer of thanksgiving on behalf of the people.

At the altar, the words and actions of the Last Supper are recalled: Christ took bread and wine, gave thanks, and shared them with his disciples, saying, "Do this in remembrance of me." In the Prayer of Consecration, we remember Christ's once-for-all sacrifice on the Cross, his glorious resurrection and ascension, and his promise to come again. The Prayer Book holds these truths together with care: Communion is remembrance and thanksgiving, a sharing in Christ's body and blood, and a foretaste of the heavenly banquet.

The BCP's language gives this prayer a particular beauty and solemnity. Its measured cadence helps quieten the heart and lift our thoughts to God. The familiar exchange, "Lift up your hearts" "We lift them up unto the Lord," gathers the congregation into the Church's act of worship. The Prayer of Humble Access gives humble and honest expression to our need for grace: "We are not worthy so much as to gather up the crumbs under thy table." Yet it leads us towards confidence in God's mercy, asking that we may be fed by Christ in heart and soul.

This is one of the great riches of the Prayer Book: it teaches the faith as it prays it. Its words carry the weight of Scripture and centuries of Christian worship. Its prayers lead us through confession, absolution, praise, intercession and thanksgiving, giving us language for reverence, repentance and joy. The service is not only something to hear; its ordered pattern draws us into worship, and the bread and wine bring the prayer to its sacred centre.

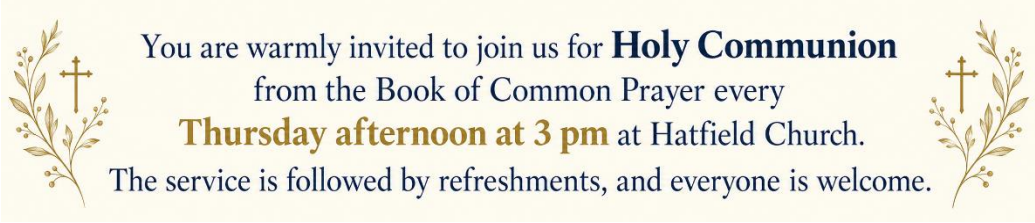

Our way of worship at Hatfield has its own quiet character: we remain seated for most of the service. In that stillness, we can listen, pray and reflect together, following the words of the liturgy and receiving the sacrament with reverence.

The Prayer Book also connects us with a long history. The first Book of Common Prayer was authorised in 1549, bringing a shared pattern of worship in English to parish churches.

Revised over the following decades, the Prayer Book of 1662 became a lasting foundation of worship in the Church of England. Its Communion service draws on much older traditions of Christian prayer and sacramental worship. When we use its words today, we join generations of Christians who have gathered to hear God's Word, give thanks and receive the gifts of Christ.

Holy Communion is both ancient and living. We come carrying the joys and burdens of our own lives, yet we share one sacred meal as members of Christ's body. We receive his body and precious blood with faith and thanksgiving, trusting that Christ meets us there and strengthens us to serve him in the world. The Prayer Book sends us out with a prayer that we may continue in holy fellowship and do the good works God has prepared for us.
